April Newsletter 2023

Good Evening to you all,

I am sorry this is late, but we have been very busy with Club and Projects at home., and the wet weather didn't really help but the garden was in need of it.

Guess that you like most of us you have noticed the downturn in the temperature over the past week, maybe just maybe we could be in for a cold and long winter this year.

This Wednesday is Ladies Night so we will have nibbles and good company along with the usual raffles, plus I will try and arrange a special raffle if I can seeing that it's Easter at the end of the week.

Later this month the Club will be operating with reduced draught beers available as the Cooler floor has to be replaced, so we will be operating using an Ice Box System. Instead of having 6 beers available we will only have three at any one time, however the others will be available in bottles. It is expected to only be for about a week.

At my last contact with NCC re our shift to the new premises there had been no submissions received to date, so fingers crossed that will continue. The Mako's Rugby have been through with their builder to start and get plans and costs in place for them, they are confident and have booked the builder to start January 2024.

Congratulations to Graeme Gibbons on his recent birthday and heartfelt support for Carl Smith having just lost his Dad who was a big part of Carl's life in the past few years looking after him right until the very end. You are amazing Carl, such dedication.

Don't forget Ladies Night, do come along and bring some friends it is always great to see the club full with people.

Regards,

Peter Fisher
